Is My Cat Urinating Too Much?

Should I Change the Diet?

With Health Monitor you can check your cat's urine in a calm home environment. Increased weight of urine balls can be a sign of kidney compromise, diabetes and hyperthyroidism.

HOW IT WORKS Use the chart provided on the box to compare the weight of your cat's urine balls. If the weight of the urine balls is at or above the levels of the chart, your cat is urinating too much, regardless of diet. Weigh your cat's urine balls every three months and if the weight of the urine balls increases and your cat's diet is the same, see your veterinarian. Your veterinarian can recommend a special diet that can add years to your cat's life.

Health Monitor
EVERYDAY LITTER

Consistent particle sized (calibrated) scoopable litter that will help you monitor kidney function, diabetes and hyperthyroidism.
